Schmidt for $5,000. Kewell Plans Wholesale Building. Beecher Howell is figuring with several contractors on the erection of an eight-story building on a lot he owns at Tenth and Dodge streets. It is the present intention to start work on the structure this fall, but all the details are not yet shaped for definite announcement. The building will be used for wholesale purposes. Collins' Trial is Postponed. The trial of James Collins, the alleged pickpocket, has been postponed until October 22. Collins is said to have stolen a purse belonging to a Mr. McClellan of Tabor, Ia., while both were on a Farnam street car. McClellan had suffered in a like manner several times on previous visits to Omaha, but this time he is said to have caught Collins in the very act. One More New Garage. Still another addition to Garagesville will be erected by the Coad Real Estate company by the Capital City Brick and Tile company. Jensen was filed in district court by Mrs. Ellen Jensen. The petition was immediately withdrawn. County Attorney Engstrom, representing Mrs. Jensen, admitted that it is a "statutory charge," which may mean any ground for which the law allows the dissolution of the marriage contract. The Jensens reside at 111 South Thirty-eighth street. No More Street Gambling. James Campbell, who was arrested while operating a peddle gambling device at Ninth street and Capitol avenue, was fined $5 and costs by Police Judge Crawford. John Jones and Sam Davis, who were taken on a like charge on Douglas street, failed to answer and forfeited a heavy bond. All these men claimed to have permits from Mayor Dahlman, but this the chief of police denies and states that gambling upon the streets will be stopped wherever found. Ten Dollars for Shooting in Dundee. Frank Fitchett was taken into county court on a charge of violating an ordinance of Dundee relating to the discharge of firearms. Fitchett pleaded guilty to one count and the other was dismissed and was fined $10. Fitchett, who is famous as the builder of a "spite fence" between his house and his nearest neighbor, upset a card party at Harry Ransdell's by firing off a revolver. The proceedings in court Friday were the result of an agreement between attorneys.

It's like "throwing money away" to sell a new $125 Runabout for merely $69, but—sometimes a merchant is placed in a position where he MUST make these sacrifices of profit—sometimes even of cost.

I see more money in reducing my vehicle space so that I may have MORE room for "automobile work." For THAT reason I am selling $140 top buggies for $85; $150 phaetons for $95; $145 delivery wagons for $90; $150 milk wagons for $105 and so on. You're NOW a clever trader if you can't make your "best buggy deal" with me NOW. I am running a big home sale "Clearance Sale" on everything—but this "Clearance" is going to have an end soon. Some waste on your part is advisable if you REALLY care to own a buggy RIGHT.

Woman Arrested for Tying Shoe

Steps Into Hallway and is Mistaken by Occupants, Who Call the Police.

Because she stepped in a hallway at 1103 Farnam street after seeing her husband off on a late train, Mrs. Annie Smith of Omaha was arrested as a suspicious character, on complaint of several women in the place who thought she was hiding there.

Mrs. Smith was carrying a number of bundles and a large hat and when her shoe became untied, she stepped in the doorway to fasten it. After that was done she was picking up her bundles and preparing to continue her journey, when officers summoned by persons living in the place arrived and arrested her. They had seen her apparently trying to conceal herself in the darkness and had become alarmed for fear that she was a burglar. Judge Crawford decided that it was no crime to tie one's shoe and sent her on her way rejoicing.

Snow and Cold Up North, Chilly Here

Forecaster Says Banana Weather in Nebraska is Coming to a Close at Last.

Snow and cold is reported from northern Montana, with rains generally throughout the west. Freezing temperatures as low as 16 degrees above zero are reported from Wyoming points.

Colonel Welsh vouches the information that the banana weather is very nearly its end in this locality for a while at least. The local outlook is for unsettled weather and much colder.

NEW CREIGHTON MONUMENT

Laboratory Building for Pharmacy College Nearing Completion.

BEARS NAME OF BENEFACTOR

Structure Will Be Four Stories in Height and Equipped with the Best Facilities for Scientific Work.

Another monument marking the memory of Count John A. Creighton, Omaha's great benefactor, is rapidly nearing completion. The inscription on this monument will be "Laboratory Building—John A. Creighton." The structure will adjoin the Creighton College of Pharmacy, Fourteenth and Davenport streets.

With the onward march of Omaha, with its progress along educational lines and the greater striving for professional pursuits, the Creighton schools have not lagged. In all departments of the university there are increased enrollments this year. In the erection of the new laboratory building the university regents are simply preparing to meet the call of the student.

The new laboratory will be a four-story structure, 80x70 feet in dimensions. A roomy basement is also provided in the plans of the architect. Total cost of the building will exceed $60,000.

The entire building will be faced with Omaha hydraulic gray brick with blue Bedford limestone trimmings from Bedford, Ind. Interior woodwork will be in oak. The vestibule and halls will be finished in terra cotta and buff enamel brick.

Arrangements of Floors.

In the basement will be located the college gymnasium, locker room and bath. The gymnasium floor will be 35x70 feet. Three hundred steel lockers will be provided.

On the first floor will be located the business offices, the general clinic or free dispensary and a private clinical laboratory for faculty use.

Two large class lecture rooms, 34x36 feet, will be found on the second floor, also two private laboratories. One of these laboratories will be for the exclusive use of City Chemist Crowley.

A chemical experiment laboratory, 35x70 feet, will be located on the third floor, together with two private laboratories for advanced research. On the fourth floor will be the histological laboratory, two private laboratories and a large class room.

The new laboratory and the old building will be connected by a steel viaduct linking the second floors.

By contract the structure should be completed and ready for occupancy by New Year's day. J. Jeffrey Davey is the architect and William Roehford & Son has the contract for the structural work.

BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS FOR MAWHINNEY & RYAN

Involuntary Suit Brought by Creditors, but Firm Will Continue Business.

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings have been filed in the United States court against the jewelry firm of Mawhinney & Ryan by creditors. The case is in the nature of a friendly suit, as the store will not be closed during the proceedings, but will be conducted by Mr. Ryan.

Before the panic the firm tried to expand by acquiring several outside stores and the loss by reason of these has put the firm under a heavy financial strain during the last two years. The firm has recently closed out its outside stores at a great loss and will devote its entire energy to its Omaha store. A difference of opinion among the stockholders has caused a condition whereby liquidation is necessary in order to reorganize and continue the business and to that end bankruptcy proceedings have been started. The business is still open and will continue to run as heretofore and a reorganization will be effected in the immediate future.

Harte Low Bidder for New Institute

Child Saving Building Will Be Put Up by Him Unless Some Hitch Occurs.

John Harte is the lowest bidder on the new Child Saving Institute building to be erected at Forty-second and Dewey avenue, and unless some unforeseen condition arises he will be awarded the contract for the work. Somewhere near a dozen bids were submitted and opened in the office of John McDonald, the architect.

Work will begin soon after the signing of the contract and it is expected the building will be completed within eight months. The building complete will cost about $60-
